Forever float that standard sheet—
Where breathes the foe but falls before us?
With Freedom's soil beneath our feet,
And Freedom's banner streaming o'er us!

A Victory in Tennessee.

A force of about 1400 men, under the command of Col. Hall, of the 105th Ohio, were attacked on Friday, at Milton, not far from Marietta, by John Morgan, and about 3500 rebels. The enemy made several charges upon our forces, but were driven back each time with loss, and finally defeated and dispersed. The victory was complete. Forty rebels were killed, 150 were wounded, and 150 taken prisoners. Our loss was seven killed and thirty-one wounded. The forces engaged on our side were the 10th Ohio, 80th and 123d Illinois, and 101st Indiana, besides a section of the 19th Indiana battery, and a company from the 1st Tennessee cavalry.

Good News from Port Hudson.

Instead of being repulsed at Port Hudson, as reported by the rebels, Com. Farragut's fleet attacked that point, on the night of the 14th inst., and passed above the rebel fortifications. The steamer Mississippi got aground and was destroyed by the Admiral's orders. If the canal at Vicksburg is large enough for the passage of boats from above, there is no obstruction which will prevent the two fleets from uniting and making a combined attack upon Port Hudson or Vicksburg.

Resources of the Country.

The article from the New York Times which discusses the question, can we stand a long war? is of a highly encouraging character. Our financial experience during the present war demonstrates that we as a people can do far more in raising means than was at first supposed, even by the most sanguine. At first, scarcely any one thought our ability was equal to what has already been expended, but now it is believed by good financiers, basing their opinion upon the actual resources of the country, that we can carry on a war for five years, and still be able to pay the expenses, enormous as they would be.

This is consoling and satisfactory. It gives our people confidence to go on in the prosecution of this most necessary war of self-defense and self-preservation as a nation. But it ought not to make us careless of expenditure, nor cause the government to be so over-confident as not to use every means to bring it to a conclusion as soon as possible. A long war sacrifices life and imposes burdens upon the wealth-producing labor of the country. Hence the rosy view which capitalists may take of our situation has its reverse side of misery, death and poverty to large masses of the people. It is well to be courageous and to have a self-reliance that will bear us up under disaster and delay—it is better to have the will and determination that we must have a short and vigorous war, and an early peace which comes only through victory over the enemy. The article in question is good to give us faith in ourselves, and it is with that view that we republish it, and not to encourage delay, or excuse a want of vigor in the prosecution of the war.

THE TRUE DEFINITION OF A COPPERHEAD.—At a dinner party given in New York, in 1775, says the Evening Post, a gentleman of considerable notoriety as a wit, was asked, "Pray, what is a Tory?" He replied, "A Tory is a creature whose head is in England, while his body is in America, and I think the two parts ought to be joined by stretching the neck." We have still persons among us not unlike this description of the Tory, whose heads are in Richmond, while their bodies are in New York; and though we might not recommend the old revolutionary wit's plan of bringing the two parts together by stretching the intervening membranes, we should certainly not object to seeing the body sent where the head is.

THE NEW JERSEY PEACE RESOLUTIONS.—The "peace" resolutions which passed the New Jersey senate a week or so since, passed the house of assembly yesterday, every democrat except one voting in their favor. The house of assembly has also passed to a third reading a bill, for the exclusion from the state of all persons of color. The bill provides that any negro or mulatto coming into the state and remaining ten days, shall be transported to Liberia or some other island of the West Indies where slavery does not exist; and the governor is authorized to pay the expense, not exceeding fifty dollars in each case.

IMPORTANT MILITARY MEASURE IN MASSACHUSETTS.—The Governor of Massachusetts has approved a bill to promote enlistments and regulate recruiting, which puts $1,500,000 into his hands, for the purpose of raising volunteers. The executive of the state, alone, can hereafter offer bounties for enlistment, and he is authorized to pay a sum not exceeding $50 for every new recruit, and $25 to such of the Massachusetts volunteers, now in the service of the United States, as may re-enlist.

MURDER NEAR DELPHI, IND.—AN OFFICER KILLED BY A DESERTER.—A deserter by the name of Reuben Stout, from the 60th Indiana regiment, shot and killed Solomon Huffman, who was attempting to arrest him, on Saturday last. Huffman, in company with D. J. McAfee, left Delphi on Saturday evening for the purpose of making the arrest, and went to the residence of General Stout, the brother of the deserter, having received information that he was harbored there. They entered the residence, and after some conversation proceeded to search it. Huffman started up stairs and had made two steps when some one from above shouted "go back," and immediately after a pistol was fired. Two shots entered the body of the deserter, who fell and expired in a few minutes. McAfee carried the corpse outside the house, where it was found in the morning. The deserter was further searched by the threats of the murderer above that if he came up he would serve him as he had his comrade. McAfee returned to Delphi.

On Sunday morning Daniel Stout was arrested. His brother, the murderer, escaped and is yet at large, though he will probably soon be arrested, alive or dead. A reward of $200 is offered for him. Huffman, the deceased, leaves a wife and two children. He was a member of the army, but was discharged for disability.

Last Night's Report.

Contrary to belief expressed this morning, the authorities have concluded to let in water at this point. The marriage of the Mississippi river and Lake Providence was consummated this evening at sundown, and as I write an immense volume of water is pouring in, threatening friend and foe alike.

The aperture is twenty feet wide already, and is visibly widening at the mouth. By morning the greater part of the town of Lake Providence will be under water.

There was a bit of a fight yesterday at Shurtail Bend, forty miles above here, in which a rebel wagoner and some teamsters were taken prisoners. Our loss is not reported. Reinforcements will be sent up the river this evening.

There has been no fighting since Friday. An 8-inch Dahlgren howitzer, mounted in Battery Wilson, in addition to the two Parrots. The rebels have been mounting two new guns. Gen. Ross has been scouring the country on both sides of the river, reconnoitering for dry land with indifferent success. No land was found on which a land force can operate. The battle will be renewed to-morrow morning between the gunboats and the fort. Battery Wilson will be in position to do so.

preparations to fall back towards Richmond, probably to the defenses of that city. The apprehension of the Davis government is of an attack intended by way of James river. The information received by Secretary Welles is that Admiral Farragut has safely made the passage in the frigate Hartford, flagship, with his whole fleet, the steamer Mississippi excepted, which vessel got aground, and was, by the Admiral's orders, abandoned and destroyed.

WASHINGTON, March 23. The following has been received by Col. Sager, per steamer, March 23. South-West Pass, March 15.—(By telegraph from Baton Rouge).—Com. Farragut, leading in the Hartford, attacked the Port Hudson batteries last night at eleven o'clock with the fleet.

The steamer Mississippi ran aground and was abandoned and burned. The firing on both sides is rapid and severe. The army is within five miles of the enemy's works, in good spirits, and bound to win. Cavalry skirmishing is the only fighting as yet.

Legislative Summary.

MONDAY, March 23. SENATE.—Senator Wilkinson's resolution, directing the governor to make such disposition of the remaining fifty copies of the first volume of the report on Wisconsin geology, as may in his judgment be for the best interest of the state, was adopted.

There were passed: the bill to amend the revised statutes, "of costs and fees"; to extend the time of the payment of the principal on school and university land certificates, ten years, where the parties purchasing the lands have not cut timber thereon for purposes of speculation; to authorize the county supervisors to lay out highways in certain cases; to authorize the city of La Crosse, and the counties of Vernon, Richland and Iowa, to aid in the construction of the La Crosse, Viroqua and Mineral point railroad; to prevent the unlawful driving away of cattle by drovers and others; relating to official fees in certain cases. (This bill provides that a sheriff or a marshal selling on execution or order of court, over fifty thousand dollars worth of property, shall be entitled to one per cent. on amount of sales above fifty thousand dollars, in addition to the fees now allowed by law.)

There were also passed: a bill providing for a special state tax of $200,000 for aid to families of volunteers; to authorize the borrowing of money to repel invasion, suppress insurrection and defend the state in time of war, not exceeding in the aggregate $350,000, this sum to be borrowed from the school fund or raised by sale of coupon bonds, and to be paid in three annual installments, commencing with the payment in 1892; to provide for the payment of a state tax of $75,000 for the estimated general expenses of 1864; bills appropriating contingent fund to the governor for general and war purposes; to authorize the governor to purchase tourniquets for soldiers in the field; to provide for purchase of the Congressional Globe; to provide for furnishing city, county and state officers with revenue stamps in certain cases; and the bill embodying Superintendent Pickard's codification of the school laws. This bill, after having been explained by Senator McMillan, from the committee on education, was passed under suspension of the rules by a unanimous vote.

ASSEMBLY.—A large number of local bills were passed at the session this morning. The joint resolution from the senate rescinding the state rights resolutions of 1859 was adopted. All the democrats voting against rescinding.—Madison Journal.

The bill to approve and confirm the form of conveyances by the city of Janesville of the lands heretofore sold for the unpaid taxes of said city, passed the senate.

MICHIGAN CENTRAL RAILROAD.—The earnings of this first class, admirably managed railway, for the month of February last, show the large gain of $86,199, or more than 54 per cent over the earnings of the corresponding month of 1862. The earnings of the line have been a steady increase, and the company is now in a position to carry it away fast enough to prevent accumulation. The spring business must be very large, and the net earnings of the fiscal year ending June 30th, bid fair to equal 12 per cent on the capital stock, after paying interest on the debt and the contribution to the sinking fund. The amount of the credit of the sinking fund now exceeds $600,000, or about 8 per cent on the stock, and at the present rate of accumulation will be over two millions in 1870—equivalent to 33 per cent on the stock.—Railroad Gazette.

TENNESSEE SLAVEHOLDERS PRESENTING THEIR SLAVES WITH THEIR FREEDOM.—A Nashville dispatch (18th) to the Philadelphia Press, says: John Trimble, the great Union man of Nashville, has made his slaves—thirteen in number—a present of their freedom. This excellent man and his whole family are, and have been, unconditionally loyal. Last week Mrs. Trimble visited one of her former servants, and was visited in turn this week. Mrs. Trimble states that this is the happiest moment of her life. The slaves of Mr. Trimble have been treated with the greatest humanity and kindness, yet the thirteen mortals exhibited no distinction to remain in bondage, such was their infatuation to be free.

It is said that Mr. William T. Berry, one of the staunchest of our Union citizens, has done the same thing.

Mob Law in Highland County, Ohio. The Copperheads burn down Four Houses of Union Men.

From the Highland (Ohio) News.

We regret, for the credit of the county, to be compelled to record the facts given below, and did we not have them from a source which we know to be entirely reliable, we should be loath to receive them as credible, so disgraceful are they to the intelligence and civilization of the age.

Within the last fortnight three tenant-houses on the farm belonging to our fellow-citizens, Mr. Benj. Pugsley, but occupied by his brother Walter, and one on the farm of Esq. McCoppin, (the last named an entirely new building), all situated in the northern part of the Bushcreek township, have been set fire to and entirely destroyed. The only cause that can be imagined for this dastardly and senseless conduct, is the malignant feeling of hatred entertained by the copperheads of that vicinity for "the nigger," and for Union men, who are falsely charged with supporting a war for the benefit of "the nigger." The houses burned, we learn, had been occupied by negro tenants, but they are represented as industrious and honest people, against whom no offense is alleged, except the color of their skins.

After the burning of Esq. McCoppin's house, an anonymous letter was sent him, threatening that if he dared to rebuild the house his own dwelling and fences should share the same fate! Threats have also been made to burn the property of other Union men in the neighborhood, and being but few in number, and surrounded by an overwhelming number of Vallandigham democrats, the Union men are suffering a most "reign of terror." In God's name, what are we coming to, if crimes like these are to be committed for no other cause than political enmity? Is it not time for all friends of law and order, and especially all true Union men, to rouse themselves to the danger which threatens them, and prepare to defend their lives and property against the midnight deeds of miscreants like those who perpetrated these senseless and devilish outrages? "Forgiveness, forgiveness," is the dictate of true wisdom. We hope no efforts will be spared to ferret out the scoundrels, and bring them to justice. It is high time to test the question whether such crimes can be committed with impunity in our hitherto law-abiding and peaceable community.

GENERAL BUTLER IN NEW ORLEANS.—The following incident of General Butler's mode of dealing with refractory cases at New Orleans, we believe, has not been in print. It is vouched for by the very best authority. A merchant of New Orleans, who was a secessionist of the stamp that took great pleasure in spouting about "Pisanyne Butler," found himself with arms in his hands on the rebel side of the lines after the taking of New Orleans. But he was under the necessity of writing frequently to the agent who had his property in charge.

In these letters he frequently indulged in expressions of General Butler, and in one of the letters he expressed a warm sympathy for men suffering under his tyrannical rule, saying that he believed a personal chastisement could be inflicted on Butler, and offering his friend and agent five thousand dollars to do the job.

It happened that this letter, as in a thousand other cases of supposed secret communication about that time, was seen by General Butler, and contents noted. Soon afterwards the order was issued requiring all persons who wished to visit their estates in that city, real or personal, to register themselves and take the oath of allegiance.

The merchant in question had too much to lose, and slipping within our lines again, endeavored to make himself at home about the city, as though he had never been away; but while busy at this preparatory work, General Butler's orderly waited on him, with a polite invitation to call at headquarters. He did so, and was very kindly received. General Butler received him very kindly, and begged to show him something of interest, taking the letter in question from his desk. He asked him if that was his writing and signature, and the convicted hater of Pisanyne Butler could do no less than own up. General Butler then said to him that as he was evidently a man of substance, with money to spare for good purposes, he might give him $5,000 to the fund for the support of the poor loyalists, as he has not been able to secure the threatening fine proposed to pay it out for, and that he might have twenty-four hours in which to place the money in that fund, or go to the fort below, and wear a ball and chain. The man made haste to liquidate, and registered himself on the side of General Butler's authority thereafter.

REBUKING A COPPERHEAD.—There was a scene in the senate chamber this morning a few minutes before the opening of the morning session. Sen. Sat. Clark, who, a few days since stood up in his place and declared Gen. Rosecrans to be a "villain, a scoundrel, and a coward," was accosted by a furloughed private from one of our regiments who had not learned which, in Rosecrans' army, and asked if he had ever uttered such language.

Mr. Clark replied to the effect that he had, and that the soldier would find out the truth of the statement if he should ever be so unfortunate as to be placed under Gen. Rosecrans' command.

"Well, sir," returned the soldier, "I have been under Rosecrans two years, and I believe you are a villain, a scoundrel, and a coward, and a d-d traitor besides." This was uttered with unmistakable earnestness, and with various epithets and additions which it is unnecessary here to repeat. It was evidently an unexpected compliment to the senator from Dodge. He received it in silent astonishment, and when the soldier finally went his way, he left him, we trust, a wiser, if not a better man.—Madison Journal.

A Busy Day.—Yesterday was a busy, working day in the assembly. Three long sessions were held, and the general file of bills was pushed a long way ahead.

Milton Academy.—The winter term of this institution closed on the 20th inst. The public sessions of the literary societies were well attended, and their exercises gave good satisfaction. The term ended with the usual gathering of the old and new students in the evening "social." The usual grade of scholarship was reached in most classes during the term, though the least advanced scholars are generally in the fullest attendance in the winter.

To the accommodations of the school has been added, this spring, a three-story building, with convenient rooms for forty gentlemen students.

The number of scholars this term was 175—as large as ever in the winter. The teachers in French, German, and instrumental left at the close to fill other positions, and their places have been supplied by competent instructors.

The Ladies' Hospital Relief Society will meet at their rooms in Jackson & Smith's block, on Thursday, March 26th, from 10 o'clock A.M. till 5 o'clock P.M.

Maria F. Clark, Sec'y.

Mr. Nichols' Lecture.—In consequence of the unfavorable state of the weather, the address of Mr. Nichols before the Union Club has been postponed until Friday evening, the 27th inst.

Shoemakers.—There will be a meeting of the journeymen shoemakers of the city of Janesville, at the Common Council Room, Tuesday evening, the 24th inst., at 7 o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

In Richmond United States treasury notes are worth 150 per cent. premium over paper of state banks, and 250 over Confederate scrip; the last named is worth only one quarter its face in gold.

The Eighth Regiment.—By a letter from the eighth regiment, we learn that they were encamped on the Arkansas shore opposite the Yazoo Pass, on the 17th of March.

The twelfth Wisconsin battery was still below Helena, on the 17th inst., waiting for boats to take them down the Yazoo Pass.

From New York.—A New York letter, dated March 19th, says:

Another new gambot, the Chenango, was launched from the yard of Mr. Simonson, at Greenpoint, this afternoon. There were a large number of ladies and gentlemen present, among them Admiral Gregory, Chief Engineer Wood, and Naval Constructors Pook and Zeller. The Chenango is a double bottom steamer, of the same dimensions as the Shamrock, launched on St. Patrick's day.

Since last evening, some twenty deserters have been arrested and sent to Governor's Island. Among them was a man named James Kippeler, who has, it is said, enlisted in nine different regiments, and received the bounty from each. He is said to have obtained nearly $1,000. Smart chap that!

Counterfeit.—In the way of a counterfeit transpired in Wall street this afternoon. An admirably executed $500 "bogue" on the Central Bank of Worcester, Mass., was palmed off on the firm of Gwyne & Day, who had the reputation of being among the sharpest brokers in the street. The detectives were notified as soon as the spurious character of the note was discovered, but by that time the counterfeit had not been discovered.

Diabolical.—We learn by a gentleman who arrived from Columbus last evening, that four tables, used for government horses, were set on fire last night in Columbus. The tables were in different parts of the city, and were lighted about 11 o'clock, so as to prevent the fire engines being used at but one. We believe not a horse was destroyed.—Cleveland Herald.

More New Western Gunboats Ready.—The United States gunboat Covington will be ready to leave for the south to-morrow, and will soon after be followed by the Queen City and Champion. Gen. Bowen informs us that men are coming in briskly, but that he has still good places for a number of seamen, firemen, cooks and stewards, to complete the crews of these boats, and others that are being finished as rapidly as possible.—Cincinnati Commercial, 26th.

A COUGH, COLD, OR AN IRRITATED THROAT if allowed to progress, results in Bronchitis and Croup, and often in Consumption. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES reach directly to the affected parts and give almost instant relief. In BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, and CATARRH they are beneficial. The good effects resulting from the use of the Troches, and their extended use, have caused them to be counterfeited. Be sure to get the genuine BROWN'S Bronchial Troches which have proved their efficacy by a test of many years. Public Speakers and Singers should use the Troches. Military Officers and Soldiers who over-exert the voice and are exposed to sudden changes, should have them. Sold everywhere at 25 cents per box. J. J. DAWSON.
